La clase de español

We are going to practice both the preterit and the imperfect tenses for this episode. We will use the preterit to express specific things that happened in this episode and the imperfect to express nonspecific items that occurred often and are thus vague in nature when it comes to time. In Spanish, write about eight specific things that happened using the preterit tense. In the other column write about eight things that happened a lot over and over during your stay in either Spain or in Medina de Rioseco. Use the imperfect tense for the latter ones.

Eight specific items

Eight nonspecific items

In your notebook please take down at least ten phrases that you can use in class for Tengo Ánimo points.
